

We respect everyone's right to express their thoughts and opinions and encourage constructive conversations on our social media channels, but we do ask that your contributions comply with our Social Media House Rules - otherwise they (or you) may be removed. Whilst we moderate our social media channels and reserve the right to delete comments or block users at our discretion, we do hope to create a community with you that is built on respect, and over time develop a culture of self-moderation.

We welcome courteous and respectful participation, please do not post anything that:

- is discriminatory, racist, abusive, obscene, inflammatory, sexually explicit or unlawful
- is offensive, defamatory or aggressive
- is untrue or inaccurate
- attacks or abuses specific individuals or groups in a way that's meant to harass or threaten
- violates copyright or intellectual property rights
- is for the purposes of self-promotion or commercial gain
- is spam, including link baiting or files containing damaging viruses.

Content posted by users doesn't necessarily reflect the views or opinions of ARTC. You agree to hold ARTC harmless from any liability and/or damages resulting from your participation on our social media channels, or any claim arising from any material that you post on our social media channels.

Please note that by engaging with ARTC's social media channels you grant ARTC the right to use and/or distribute any content posted by you in any manner or media without any legal or monetary obligation to you.

We welcome your feedback, but we may not respond to all posts or comments. If you have an enquiry or request that you would like ARTC to formally respond to, please contact us via our corporate channels available here: <https://www.artc.com.au/contact-us/>. Feel free to make a post, add a comment and get involved. We look forward to your feedback and thank you for visiting.